Diffusing a beam of light

Estalki

Estalki, a led luminaire that provides warm light in a smooth and evocative way. Inspired by the classic lamp shades steel structures, it is designed to be fixed to the wall. It can be connected directly to the electrical installation or can be fitted separately to a socket. In this second case, the light is switched on/off by pulling lightly on the cable.

Presented in three formats, one circular and two organic shapes, they can be perfectly combined in the same wall.
